Introduction

This directory is published to coincide with the beginning of the implementation of the National Rehabilitation Strategy in the Dublin 12 area. It aims to present services available for Addiction service users in the Dublin 12 area. It is hoped that the directory will prove to be a useful guide for services involved in the care and case management process and facilitate service users move through the relevant services as seamlessly as possible. From the outset there was a determination to ensure a client centered approach. Each stage of the addiction process was examined to ascertain what services were available. In this context the four stages of addiction identified were;

- Active Drug Use,
- Stabilisation,
- Detoxification & Rehabilitation;
- Aftercare.

This also reflects the four tier system as outlined by the NDRIC as evidenced in Figure 1.

FIGURE 1

Rehabilitation Services/Interventions as seen within the accepted National Rehabilitation strategy Four Tier Model of Care.

In addition, in keeping with the National Rehabilitation Strategy there was a determination to ensure the service user was kept at the centre and to capture the services available to address a range of issues that are traditionally important to those affected by addiction (Figure 2).

As many services are specific to the stage of treatment it was important to categorise each service in this way. For example both housing and training/education services available to you differ if you are an active drug user, if you have stabilised on treatment, or if you have achieved drug free status. In this context the following categories were identified; Treatment, Homelessness, Training/Education. Sections were also dedicated to Family Support, Childcare, and Alcohol Services and one section contains details for a range of other useful services.

While treatment is seen as a key service, those affected by addiction often present with a range of issues that are inter-dependant and inter-related. There is recognition that there is a need for a holistic approach and that no one agency has the resources or the skills to address multiple issues. An interagency approach is identified as the best approach in meeting the needs of those affected by addiction. The inter agency approach provides mutual support for services involved and can impact positively in meeting the needs of the service user.

Every effort has been made to ensure that all details contained in this document were as accurate and up to date as possible.

SECTION 1: ACTIVE DRUG USE
